Covenant Homes is a professional residential home building company founded in 1996 by Rick & Lisa Johnson. With work ethics based upon quality, integrity, honesty and service, our commitment to homeowners is summed up in the name and slogan of our company—Covenant Homes, "A Promise of Excellence."

In the early 1980s, Rick Johnson was working his way through college in the construction industry. Although he enjoyed the challenges associated with building, Rick's career path led him into the stocks and bonds industry as a financial consultant and manager. With his passion for construction alive and well, remodeling and building became a healthy hobby—and ultimately a new career.

Lisa Johnson is a former kindergarten teacher and a full time mother of three. Lisa assists clients with decisions from custom colors to kitchen and bathroom design.

At Covenant Homes, we see our clients as the heart of our business... a unique philosophy that sets us apart from most builders. Our clients value the convenience of having design and building services all from one company. We are fortunate that our clients allow us the creative freedom to design and build a home tailored to their particular taste and style.
